Asian Golf Travel Nation - September 2012

Dear Golf Travelers,

Welcome to the latest issue of the Asian Golf Nation, the source for news breaking information about golf in Asia. In addition, unique golf playing tips for Indochina's tropical environment, announcements of golf travel promotions, and our latest subscription offer are all integral parts of today's newsletter.

The summer months in Europe and the Americas are over and it is now back-to-school time for the kids. Leafs on trees will start to change colors, the days will become shorter, and the weather will start to turn cold soon. This is time for the last golf rounds of the year and time to start making this winter's golfing plans. There are only 4 months left in 2012!

In Asia, we are in the midst of the "green season" with heavy afternoon showers being the norm. However, far from going elsewhere it seems there are more golfers here than ever before. The golf courses are green and annual maintenance over. Low season prices are in effect and fast under four hour rounds are common. Other than a few delays, there have not been any rainouts at all. This is really hard to beat!

As usual, Golfasian has been busy updating our tours for the high season and re-inspecting the area golf courses and resorts. Next month will really see allot of travel. I will be golfing in Saigon, Danang, and Hanoi for the first two weeks of the month and Jim is going to check-out the golf in Laos, so stay tuned for our trip reports next month. In addition, look out for some new golf articles.

As always there are many golf 'happenings' around the region so with that, I invite you to enjoy this edition of the Asian Golf Nation.

Golf news from around the region:

Thailand

Phuket: The forgotten golf course in Phuket has no doubt been Mission Hills due to poor playing conditions, but this has all changed. Last year the fairways were re-laid with Bermuda grass and this has improved the surfaces. Of course, the most important part of any course are the greens and they are once again a joy to putt on. It does not take long to lose your reputation, but it can take time to get it back and Mission Hills Phuket are doing their best to get the course back to its best, which is good for golf in Phuket. Welcome back Mission Hills!

Vietnam

Ho Chi Minh City: Vietnam's capital has its 5th golf course. The Jeung San Golf Club was designed by Ron Fream's Golfplan and is Korean owned. The new course is currently the least expensive course to play in Vietnam with US$39 green fees on weekdays. Jeong San plays 7,250 yards from the tips and features heavy bunkering throughout. It is nothing special but is another option for golf in Saigon. Jeong San is located on an island in the Saigon River and it takes 90 minutes to reach by road and ferry boat from the center of town.

Malaysia

Langkawi: Some good and some bad golf news for Malaysia's answer to Phuket. First, the 2nd nine at the Ross Watson designed 99 East Golf Club is delayed. Construction won't start before mid-2013 which will push back the full golf course opening until 2014. On the other hand, the Ernie Els redesign of The Golf Club Datai Bay is in progress and the golf course should be back in operation by January 2013. So count on 2 and 1/2 Langkawi golf course for this high season (99 East, Datai Bay, and Gunung Raya).

With that I would like to once again thank those of you who have golfed with us recently, it was nice seeing you and I hope your trip was memorable one. Remember, whatever your budget and preferred style of travel, we are glad to suggest a golf package to meet your needs.

Until the next newsletter, happy golfing and I hope to see YOU in the area very soon!

Golf in Laos - A Destination Review by Golfasian

In addition to great golf, you will be on a bit of an adventure in Laos; blazing new trails to authentic cultural attractions, delighting in fine Asian dining imbued with French finesse and frontier sophistication, and elevating your spirits with recreational and soft adventure activities.

Laid-back Laos has so much to keep you busy and entertained and it is all stress free. The Lao people tend to follow the old adage about not sweating the small stuff, and by the way, it's all small stuff. You will find Lao citizens to be quite polite and friendly with better English skills than some countries in the

★ Featured Golf Course - Luang Prabang Golf Club, Laos

Luang Prabang Golf Club sits about 6 km west from the center of town, situated along the south bank of the Mekong River surrounded by forested tropical mountains. Holes 14 through 17 parallel the riverbank with the par three 17th playing right along the river's edge. Water is evident on nine of the 18 holes but really only comes into play on holes 3, 5, 7, and 14. The par four 18th hole plays uphill 35' over 375 yards from the tips to a medium-sized green that slopes 7' right to left across 75 feet of putting surface. The greens in general tend to be medium to small. Elevation changes across the entire layout are mild with hole 18 being the only exception and walking is not difficult, consisting of level to gently undulating terrain contours.

★ Featured Hotel - La Residence Phou Vao by Orient Express

Magnificent views of the surrounding countryside impress most guests of this luxury hotel, situated on a hillside just a short ride to the edge of town. The fine dining room receives heaps of praise as well, as do the spectacular gardens on the property. You can expect first class facilities, amenities, and congeniality during your stay and if you enjoy being pampered in a world-class spa this is the place for you. Infectious smiles from affable members of the hospitality team are uplifting and reflect their genuine happiness and confidence in the property and owners. Room service serves the entire menu from the dining room and if you are on one of the upper floors you may find it hard to leave the spectacular views of Mount Phousi and the World Heritage town of Luang Prabang.

Vietnam Golf Tour - From Hanoi to Ho Chi Minh City

Golf in Vietnam is changing rapidly, growing and flourishing. After being virtually non-existent for nearly 20 years (from 1975 to 1994) the country now

Golfing Tips by Ian Morgan - Heat & Sun Exposure

With extreme high temperatures of up to 40 degrees, especially between April and September it is very important to protect yourself well. Combine that with high levels of UV, it's a necessity to cover yourself to avoid discomfort and in some cases heat-stroke.

- Apply a high protection sun block
- Wear a hat or a visor, or even better use your umbrella
- Carry a small towel to dry your face, hands and arms
- Cloth or all weather gloves are often better than leather in very hot temperatures

Remember, even with over cast skies, it's still possible to get burnt
